

Communication and Engagement

Presented by:

Helen Cunniffe (pictured top right)
Education Facilitator
Centre for Dementia Learning, Dementia Australia

Workshop overview:

'Supporting Successful Communication' explores the difficulties people living with dementia can experience in communication and the impact this has as the condition progresses. You will learn to identify barriers to communication and develop strategies to support successful communication for the person living with dementia and those in the support relationship.

'Achieving Purposeful Engagement' provides an understanding of the importance of meaningful and purposeful engagement for people living with dementia.

This workshop will cover:

- How dementia can impact a person's ability to communicate
- Barriers to communication
- Strategies to support successful communication for the person living with dementia
- The impact of dementia
- The importance of engagement for people living with dementia
- The underpinning principles of engagement

Registration Information: Please fill out the Expression of Interest form and email to dta@qut.edu.au

Please note this does not automatically guarantee you a place. We will contact you if you are successful.

Event Details

Cost: Funded by the Australian Government

Refreshments: Morning tea, lunch and afternoon tea will be provided

Date: Wednesday 27 March 2019

Time: 9:00am to 4:00pm
(sign-in from 8:30am)

Venue: The Glasshouse
Z Block, Level 4
Queensland University of Technology
Cnr Musk Avenue and Kelvin Grove Road
Kelvin Grove, 4059

Who should attend?

AINs, PCWs, ENs plus nursing and allied health carers of people living with dementia in residential aged care facilities

Registration closes

Friday 15 March 12pm

Please fill out the Expression of Interest form and email to dta@qut.edu.au

Contact:
dta@qut.edu.au
07 3138 3822

For more information on DTA visit <https://www.dta.com.au/>

